Executive Summary

Fragile Removals & Storage is an established Australian removalist and storage company that has been operating for more than 20 years, providing local, interstate, and commercial relocation services across Australia's major metropolitan areas. The company maintains depot locations in Melbourne, Sydney, Perth, and Brisbane, enabling comprehensive national coverage for both residential and commercial clients.

The company holds accreditation with the Australian Furniture Removers Association (AFRA), Australia's peak industry body for the removals sector. This accreditation requires compliance with strict industry standards and codes of conduct, with regular audits to ensure ongoing adherence to quality benchmarks. Additionally, Fragile Removals holds an FSRA (Financial Services Reform Act) license, enabling them to provide insurance advisory services directly to customers.

With a fleet completing over 6,000 relocations annually according to their official website (with some third-party sources citing up to 10,000 homes per year), Fragile Removals has established itself as a significant player in the Australian removals market. The company maintains a Google rating of approximately 4.6-4.7 stars across 250+ verified reviews, with a 94% recommendation rate on Facebook from 260 reviews, indicating generally positive customer sentiment despite some documented service complaints.
